If the issue remains unresolved after speaking to our Complaint Liaison, you now have the option of contacting a third party ombudsman to assist you in resolving your complaint with the Lumbermen's Underwriting Alliance.

The General OmbudService (GIO) is an independent organization whose mandate is to help resolve certain types of disputes between consumers and their insurance companies. Only after you have first attempted to resolve the issue with Lumbermen's Underwriting Alliance, can you seek the aid of the GIO. In order to proceed to this step, you must also obtain a letter stating the final position of our organization before contacting the independent ombudsman service.

The GIO can be contacted at:
